

Rob Curgenven

28 March 2025

Dear Whoever it May Concern,

Freedom of information request

On 19 November 2024, Guernsey police made a public statement:

Claims of such a group committing offences against children are unfounded, and there is no current evidence that we are aware of to support such a claim,' police said, in a statement released late yesterday.

'None of the individuals on a list we understand is being shared are currently being investigated by police.

'However, two of the people named have previously been investigated and charged with sexual offences relating to children.

'Their cases are going through the courts and have already been publicised by the media.'

Question 1

Please provide details of where these cases "have already been publicised by the media"?

Question 2

Please provide a copy or a link to these articles (or article).

Question 3

When will the Royal Court writeups for the cases pertaining to Liam McIlroy and Darrin Bellingham (respectively) be publicly available?